CUL TURE

IN EAST LONDON

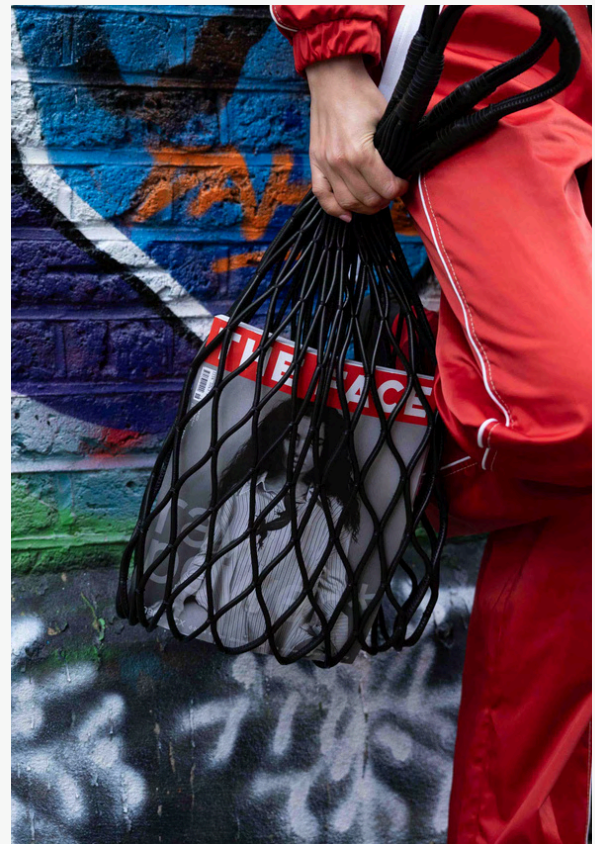

Experience the vibrant pulse of East London. Explore winding streets adorned with colourful street art, dive into bustling markets offering everything from vintage finds to artisanal goods, and discover a fashion scene that's both eclectic and avant-garde.

STREET ART

Our hotel is perfectly located across from the iconic Blackhall Street, celebrated for its captivating graffiti and vibrant street art.

We are also home to an exclusive David Speed piece, "Process", inspired by the legendary Chef Nobu's hands - a testament to the art of the 'six steps of making sushi' which you can enjoy in our Nobu Bar & Terrace.

NOBU BAR & TERRACE

Nobu Shoreditch Bar & Terrace is enriched with animated street art and offers a mix of art, music, and cultural programming.

We recently collaborated with local artist David Speed to create "Process," an art piece dedicated to Chef Nobu's 'six steps of making sushi,' celebrating 30 years of Nobu restaurants.

MARKETS

Brick Lane

Known for its vibrant markets, East offers a unique blend of food, fashion, and culture. Brick Lane Market is the place to be for vintage fashion, antiques, and global street food, reflecting the area's multicultural vibe. Columbia Road Flower Market transforms every Sunday into a flower paradise with stalls overflowing with fresh blooms, complemented by independent shops selling quirky homeware and artisanal goods.

SPITALFIELDS

Old Spitalfields Market combines the old and new, featuring a mix of trendy boutiques, contemporary art, and an array of food stalls serving everything from gourmet burgers to artisanal pastries. These markets are not just shopping destinations but cultural experiences, showcasing the dynamic and diverse spirit of East London.

ART & HISTORY

IN EAST LONDON

ART & HISTORY

Exploring art in East London, particularly in Shoreditch, offers a vibrant and eclectic journey through a dynamic cultural landscape.

Known for its creativity and innovation, Shoreditch is an open-air gallery teeming with street art from renowned artists like Banksy. The area is dotted with cutting-edge galleries such as Whitechapel Gallery, Victoria Miro Gallery, and Hoxton Gallery, which showcase contemporary and avant-garde works. Museums like the Museum of the Home and the Geffrye Museum provide fascinating insights into domestic history and interior design.

Cultural hotspots, including Boxpark Shoreditch, Rich Mix, and Shoreditch House, host a variety of art installations, live music, and creative workshops.

Monthly events like First Thursdays and biannual fairs like The Other Art Fair further enrich Shoreditch's artistic scene, making it a must-visit destination for art enthusiasts and culture seekers.

EATING

IN EAST LONDON

EATING OUT

LOCAL

Eating in East London is a culinary adventure, with Shoreditch offering a particularly diverse and vibrant food scene. The iconic Beigel Shop on Brick Lane is a must-visit, famous for its mouth-watering salt beef bagels served 24/7. Brick Lane itself is renowned for its curry houses, where you can savour authentic and flavourful Indian and Bangladeshi dishes. The area is also home to bustling food markets like Spitalfields Market and Broadway Market, where you can sample an array of street food from around the world.

STREET FOOD

Shoreditch's restaurants range from trendy eateries to traditional pubs, offering everything from gourmet burgers and wood-fired pizzas to vegan delights and modern British cuisine. This exciting mix of food options reflects the area's rich cultural diversity and dynamic culinary landscape.
